The connexions for the Sedalia Water company were completed Tuesday and the water was turned on yesterday evening. The race course will be sprinkled thoroughly all night long every night, as this is the only means left by which it can be put in proper shape, if there is no heavy rainfall.

There are a large number of horses already on the grounds and more are arriving each day.

The following entries were received at Secretary Rippey's office Tuesday:

T. K. Tomson & Son, of Dover, Kansas, a fine display of Short-horns.

Marriage of an Ex-Priest.

Kansas City, September 3.—Alloys F. Goetz, formerly a priest of the Catholic church, and Miss Lulu Gallhopper, both of Lee's Summit, Mo., were married at Independence Sunday morning. The marriage ceremony was performed by Judge Llewellyn Jones, at the home of Sanford Gessett, deputy county recorder. Mr. Goetz and his wife left Independence immediately, without saying where they intended to go.

Father Goetz was formerly in charge of a parish at Clinton, Mo., but was removed to Lee's Summit more than a year ago by order of Bishop J. J. Glennon, the head of the diocese. Recently Bishop Glennon discovered that the young priest was in debt and was not meeting his obligations as promptly as he should, so he suspended Goetz. Last week Goetz was given the alternative of signing away his diocesan rights and quitting the church or standing trial, and he chose to resign. Bishop Glennon was not at the cathedral to-day, but it was stated that Goetz had no connection whatever with the church since his resignation.

Newspapers Consolidate.

Phil Ganz, the capable editor of the Macon Republican, has purchased the Macon Citizen, Col. Bles' paper, and will consolidate the two plants. The name of the Citizen will cease to exist. The Macon Times, Ben White's paper, has also been absorbed, by the company that recently purchased the Democrat, and the two papers consolidated under the name of "Democrat." J. J. Heifner will be the editor. Macon journalism is now getting down to a common sense basis. Two papers are all that Macon can give satisfactory support. The next idiot that undertakes to start another paper there should be summarily dealt with.—Moberly Democrat.

Glen Liggett Dead.

Mrs. May H. Orear received a telegram Tuesday of this week from her sister, Mrs. Liggett, of Oswego, Kansas, stating that her son, Glen, died suddenly that morning. Glen was a bright young man of fine social and business qualities and gave promise of a useful life. He was especially tender and affectionate with his mother and a general favorite with all who knew him.

Mrs. Liggett is well known in Marshall, having several times visited her sister, Mrs. Orear, and the deep sympathy of acquaintances and the innumerable friends of Mrs. Orear, go out to them in their bereavement. Truly a bright light has gone out from the home and the world has lost a promising manhood.
